

Aloha,

The State of Hawai'i and its counties - Honolulu, Maui, Kaua'i and Hawai'i- invite you to join us at Honolulu's 'aha kalana (an assembly of counties) in July 2005. The National Association of Counties (NACo) Annual Conference and Exposition continues to be a tremendous networking and educational forum for leaders of local government.

The NACo 2005 Conference, to be held July 15 - 19, at our beautiful Hawai'i Convention Center, will enable you to learn more about how our government works for our communities.

Learn how members of the Honolulu City Council are embarking on a program called PLAN: Priorities Long-term And Now. The mission of the program is to create a 10-year plan to deliver essential city services in the most efficient and economical manner while working to ensure that Honolulu is ranked among the greatest cities of the 21st century.

Find out how Oʻahu Civil Defense works closely with the Honolulu Police Department on information sharing to keep security threats out of our City and constantly improve our readiness against natural disasters or terrorists.

Learn about the Honolulu Police Department's volunteer handicapped parking stall monitor program and its plan to expand the program with more volunteers with greater responsibility.

Come and see our public transportation system known as "TheBus" at work. The American Public Transportation Association named TheBus "America's Best Transit System".

Attend the workshops and seminars addressing key areas including Community and Economic Development; Health, Human and Social Services; Homeland Security and Public Safety; Land Use, Environment, and Quality of Life; and County Government - Governing, Managing, Financing.

Through one-on-one networking and discussions with both Workshop presenters and other county officials, you will increase your knowledge of technology, tools, and systems which are proven to work in other counties and can be applied to existing challenges in a practical, result oriented, and fiscally responsible manner.

Plan to join us this year at the NACo 2005 Conference and Exposition in Honolulu. The Thirteenth Honolulu City Council looks forward to welcoming you and we especially look forward to the exchange of ideas and solutions to common concerns that take place at the Conference.

A Hui Hou! (Until we meet again!)

NEIGHBORHOOD BOARD

Residents have the opportunity to participate in government decision making which affects their community. Oʻahu's Neighborhood Board System was created to assure and increase community participation in the decision-making process of government. The system applies the concept of participatory democracy, involving communities in the decisions affecting them. It establishes an island-wide network of elected neighborhood boards as communication channels, expanding and facilitating opportunities for community and government interaction

CULTURAL DIVERSITY

Honolulu recognizes the importance of cultural diversity. It is a city that celebrates the elegant tapestry of our multicultural heritage. Honolulu is a City of Festivals where there are a number of cultural celebrations and performances throughout the year, including the Honolulu Festival, the Korean Centennial Festival and the Chinese New Year celebration. Hawaiian, Korean, Chinese, Japanese, Filipino, African-American and Hispanic traditions are just some of the cultures that represent our rainbow of culture in the islands.

AGRICULTURE

The City and County of Honolulu is working to coordinate sustainable land use and agriculture. Innovative land use policies can help to improve the quality of life. Honolulu is committed to setting aside prime agricultural lands that were once lost to development.

The city's sustainable land-use plans are part of a comprehensive effort to maintain the rural character of our communities and preserve the significant historic and natural features of our island's past. Our future will forever be linked to the deep respect we have for the land.

THEBUS - AMERICA'S BEST TRANSIT SYSTEM

The City and County of Honolulu's public transportation system known as "TheBus" provides over 200,000 average weekday trips with a fleet of 525 diesel buses. TheBus was named "America's Best Transit System" by the American Public Transportation Association in 1994–1995 and again in 2000–2001.

TheBus has 93 routes serving the entire island of Oʻahu. There are approximately 4,200 bus stops bringing public transportation services to nearly every neighborhood on the island.

Honolulu received favorable attention in a national report called "Smart Choices, Less Traffic," that identifies the best and worst traffic and air pollution management plans across America. The report, released by the Sierra Club, notes Honolulu's BRT plan to create 32 miles of special road corridors for buses. Half of Oʻahu's population and four-fifths of its jobs are along the route.

very year NACo brings it's Annual Conference and Exposition to a different county in the United States to showcase the diversity of this great nation. NACo is pleased to conduct its 70th Annual Conference and Exposition in the City and County of Honolulu, Hawai'i – and to provide NACo's membership with:

- A forum to network with peers from other counties from around the country
- The only National Conference and Exposition dedicated solely to county government
- Nationally recognized speakers and experts
- Policy discussions by federal and administration officials on matters that may affect county government
- A wide variety of educational sessions scheduled throughout the Conference led by local government and other experts
- An opportunity to meet with over 175 different companies that supply services and products to state and local government
- A forum for strategic discussions about challenges your community deals with on a day-to-day basis
- An opportunity to get involved with the lobbying agenda of NACo
- Learn about Federal Grant opportunities that will benefit your county and constituents
- Cost savings opportunities provided by the U.S. Communities Cooperative Purchasing Program
- Tools and information about technical assistance programs
- Information from the City and County of Honolulu about their unique and exemplary programs

New Features of NACo's Annual Conference and Exposition!!

- Syposiums and Mobile Workshops have been added to the educational curriculum
- The Learning Theater in the Exhibit Hall will provide 45-minute "Best Practices" seminars
- Technical Assistance and NACo Affiliate Display tables available with information throughout the entire Conference
